Do you know your family history and the struggles they endured? Have you ever taken a moment to realize the sacrifice from your mom or dad to give you a better life? These are just few questions that come to mind when you think of how your family has survived hard times.

Take a Journey with Shaquia Jimson as she reminisces her family lifeline as they struggle through financial hardships, social acceptance, mental and physical abuse.

Life Coach and Overcomer

Shaquia Jimson knows how life can throw curve balls. Not just curve balls, but bowling balls, soft balls, hey, even trucks! No matter the situation, her message to the world is that you can overcome the bondage in your life.

Many people make decisions that help to cement the strongholds, lies, and shackles keeping us from being free. As a certified life coach, Shaquia works with her clients to help them become a better version of themselves through healing. Healing comes in all forms, but the first is to acknowledge the back burner pain most of us avoid. Find out more by going to shaquiajimsonatovercomingbondagellc.com
